Form 990, Part III, Line 1 - Organization Mission

The Natural Areas Conservancy champions urban natural areas in New York City and across the nation through innovative research, partnerships, and advocacy. We increase the health and resilience of urban forests and wetlands, catalyze connections between people and nature, and strengthen the environmental workforce.

Working in partnership with the New York City Department of Parks and Recreation (NYC Parks), we seek to ensure the high-quality management of NYC's 20,000 acres of forests and wetlands. Driving the NAC's work is the recognition that natural areas are increasingly vital to sustaining air quality, improving public health, providing New Yorkers with access to nature, and strengthening our communities. Our work includes conducting scientific research, restoring natural habitats, developing tools to inform data-driven management, and increasing awareness and opportunities for the public to experience NYC's abundant nature. More information about our work is at naturalareasnyc.org.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a - Program Service Accomplishments

1. Forests in Cities - In 2021, the Forests in Cities program continued to strengthen a national network of forested natural areas practitioners and produce high-quality research and tools to support the care and management of urban forests across the U.S. Our team hosted quarterly virtual webinars, engaging our 40+ member network as well as a three-day virtual workshop featuring speakers, peer-to-peer learning opportunities, and presentations on research findings. We continued to advance urban forest science and practice, conducting research on the carbon storage and sequestration potential across 6 of our network cities and have published a paper in the journal Urban Ecosystems. We produced a series of factsheets highlighting the benefits of urban forested natural areas and the need for their management and protection and our team presented at several in-person and virtual conferences.

Finally, we built and launched the first digital library that collects and curates resources specifically for forested natural areas in cities.

2. CUNY Internship Program - In 2021, our internship program for students from the City University of New York had its largest year yet as we hired 21 summer interns, and 7 fall and spring interns, and expanded the internship program into three tracks of study: forest ecology, trails, and shoreline monitoring. We also worked with a consultant to design a custom professional development curriculum for our interns that provides them with job readiness training in the areas of resume writing, interview skills, networking, personal finance, negotiation skills, and workplace communication. Evaluation of our program in 2021 indicated that 80% of our job-seeking interns secure a job in the environmental field within 6 months of our internship program.

3. Trails Program - In 2020, we officially released the Strategic Trails Plan for New York City, highlighting key recommendations for bringing sustainable and long-term maintenance and care to New York City's 300 miles of trails. NAC's trails team implemented several new tools as part of that plan's implementation, including a new prioritization matrix that adds transparency to the decision making about which parks to formalize next, trail management objectives for every trail, and maintenance checklists that will unify the efforts of all the different stakeholders that work on trails citywide. We also expanded the advanced volunteer program, Trail Maintainers, that we work on in close partnership with NYC Parks, training an additional 55 advanced volunteers to adopt and maintain trails citywide.

Form 990, Part VI, Line 11b - Form 990 Review Process

The Natural Areas Conservancy shared a draft 990 with its board members before filing.

Form 990, Part VI, Line 12c - Explanation of Monitoring and Enforcement of Conflicts

NAC has a board approved conflicts of interest policy. A related party and conflict-of-interest policy is stated in Article VIII of NAC's By-Laws as of 12/4/2017. Each board member must fill out an annual declaration stating they had no conflicts or identifying the nature of their interested party transactions; employees do so at the start of their employment.

Form 990, Part VI, Line 15a - Compensation Review & Approval Process - CEO & Top Management

Using market data from several NYC-based environmental non-profits of a similar size, standard titles and ranges of pay for each title were created and used as a guideline during the annual review process.
